A ride on a replica of an 1830 steam train, a walk through a train car detailing the history of railroading, a comparison of antique trucks and modern bulk product carriers, a tour of Lock No. 27 and other activities are among the offerings for the Tri-City Regional Port District's public 25th anniversary celebration Saturday, Aug. 25, at the port.

Free soft drinks for everyone and balloons for the children will add to the fun, according to Carl Rant, port general manager. There also will be free drawings for a color television, 10-speed bicycle, microwave oven, mini refrigerator, baseball and theater tickets, free dinners and other prizes. All prizes have been donated and winners will be limited to one per family.

Maxvill Luncheon Friday

Granite Cityans' best opportunity to honor one of its favorite sons, Dal Maxvill, will be this Friday, Aug. 17, at a luncheon honoring the former Major League now coach with the Atlanta Braves.

In addition to Granite City Community Night at Busch Stadium, which has already been slated for that evening, Granite Cityans will be able to attend a luncheon that afternoon for Maxvill at Charlie's Restaurant. Tickets for the luncheon are available at Mark Goldenberg's office located in the Sam Wolf building, and at the Press-Record Sports Desk. Tickets are $20 and will benefit the Granite City Park District's Little League programs.

Maxvill, a member of the St. Louis baseball Cardinals' World Series teams in 1964 and 1967 and now a member of the Braves' coaching staff, will be in St. Louis as the Braves begin a three-game series with the Redbirds.

Maxvill, who grew up and played Little League baseball in Granite City, is perhaps best known by Cardinal fans for his clutch hit in the seventh game of the '67 World Series which sparked the Redbirds to a Series victory over the Boston Red Sox.

In addition to the two World Series that Maxie spent with the Cardinals, he was later traded to the Oakland Athletics of the American League and went on to shine for A's during their heyday in the early 70's.

Persons seeking further information about either the luncheon or the Granite City Community Night at Busch Stadium should contact Goldenberg at 877-0886 or the Press-Record Sports Desk at 876-2000.

Assessments down; city rates up

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Quad-City area real estate assessments show an unexpected decrease, in many cases offsetting higher municipal tax rates, annual figures from County Clerk Evelyn Boyles disclosed today.

City and village rates for each $100 of assessed valuation 1983 tax year, 1984 collection year, are up 31.1 cents in Pontoon Beach, 22.3 cents in Madison, 19.3 cents in Granite City and 7.9 cents in the City of Venice.

ALSO HIGHER are the tax rates of the Madison County government, Metro East Sanitary District, Belleville Area College and the county's special sewer service area. Rate changes are mixed for Quad-City schools, townships, parks and fire districts.

Madison County's overall realty valuation is $1,355,263,210, down $8,966,795. Since assessments by law must reflect one-third of actual value, the total worth of taxable real estate in the county exceeds $4 billion.

THE PATTERN of decreased assessments is contrary to the tentative tallies discussed by some officials (not Miss Boyles) earlier this summer.

Granite City Community Unit School District Nine has a 1983-year valuation of only $249,572,251 for this summer's tax collection compared to $258,481,437 for 1982 (1983 collection).

The reduction in the City of Granite City is from $108,303,386 a year ago to $101,637,226. The school district extends beyond city boundaries to the Cahokia (Hartford) Canal.

ALSO WITH LOWER assessment totals are Venice, $19,265,326 a year ago and cut to $17,947,822 now, and Madison, reduced from $14,928,236 last year to $12,779,466.

New municipal rates are: Granite

City $1,567, up 19.3 cents; Madison, $1,222, up 22.3 cents; Venice $1,876, up 7.9 cents; and Pontoon Beach 49.6 cents, up 31.1 cents.

Higher pension costs and liability insurance increases are factors in many of the rate hikes locally and in the county.

School district tax rates for this summer's collection are: Granite City $3.49, up 4.9 cents; Madison District 12, $2.768, down 3.4 cents; and Venice District Three, $3.726, up 3.6 cents.

MADISON COUNTY has a new 1984 rate of 30.2 cents, up 11.6 cents. In local areas with sanitary sewers installed by Special Service Area 1, the sewer tax rate has advanced to $1.14, up 3.1 cents.

The Belleville Area College rate is up 2.3 cents to 20.5 cents, and the Metro East Sanitary District tax per $100 valuation is up three cents to 32.1.

Granite City Township taxation will be based on a rate of 28.7 cents, up 1.1 cent.

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP rates are 38.5 cents for town purposes and 36.7 cents for the road and bridge fund, each down 0.1 cent.

Rates for Chouteau, including the Mitchell area, are 16.7 cents for the township, up 1.4 cent, and 37.5 cents for roads and bridges, up 0.9 cent.

Venice Township tax rates are 44.6 cents for town purposes, up three cents, and 12.5 cents for the road and bridge program, up 1.9 cent.

GRANITE CITY PARKS' rate is 25.4 cents, up 2.3 cents, while the new Venice park district rate is 22.7 cents, down 1.9 cent.

For the Cloverleaf-East Madison fire district, the rate is 30 cents, up 17.5 cents. The rate for the Long Lake fire district is 30.2 cents, same as a year ago. Mitchell's fire district rate is 36.5 cents, up a half-cent.

Miracle Manor-Bellemeore Place street lighting district residents will have a rate of 12.5 cents, up 0.3 cent.

County acts to speed the tax cycle

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Madison County Board has approved three measures in hopes of speeding up its sluggish property tax cycle, as evidenced this year by a delay of about four months in sending out property tax bills.

During its meeting Wednesday, the board approved resolutions allowing for staggered quadrennial property assessments, establishing a standing property tax steering committee and extending the Madison County Board of Review duties to a full-time basis instead of the current part-time.

ALTHOUGH SPECIFICS of the extension of the Board of Review were not brought before the Madison County Board Wednesday, Board

Full-time Board of Review and staggered assessments are proposed

Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City stated that Board of Review members would "maintain regular business hours." "The Board of Review is, I think, the most important job in our county. It's important that we have qualified people."

Hagnauer said new salaries for the three board members and the effective date of the duty extension would be proposed in a later ordinance.

County board member William Haine of Alton commented that the adoption of the resolution should not send out the message that "our current board is any less qualified. This will provide an incentive for people to join the Board of Review, and it will provide a forum for the taxpayer to appeal his tax assessments. These three members are doing an excellent job."

THE BOARD of Review consists of Chairman Robert Harris and Shirley Voegelé, both of Granite City and Fred Pincke of Godfrey. The Board of Review currently meets from May to December each year to consider property assessment appeals.

Mrs. Voegelé said she thinks the idea of a full-time board is "Great. I'm very happy about it."

She added that she feels the action will speed up the sluggish tax cycle. "This is the main purpose, the main goal and the main idea of this. I think it will be very beneficial for the people."

ASSISTANT State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith told the county board that he hopes the resolution will accomplish something else. It may, he said, encourage Board of Review Chairman Harris to seek reappointment. Earlier this year, Harris said he would not seek another term on the board.

The second adopted measure to

GC school negotiations are continuing

Negotiators of the Granite City school district and Federation of Teachers Local 743 met Wednesday afternoon and are tentatively set to confer again Wednesday, Aug. 22. The Board of Education at its Aug. 21 session is to review the status of the talks. It also may respond to petitions seeking a No. 1 election on a $6.6 million bond issue.

WORKING CASH FUND bonds have been authorized, subject to a referendum—if a vote is sought by more than 10 percent of registered voters.

The petitions appear to contain valid signatures exceeding 10 percent.

There is hope of agreeing on terms of a new contract with the faculty prior to the fall term. The semester is to start with faculty meetings Aug. 27 and pupil attendance Aug. 28.

COMPLICATING the bargaining is a continuing financial squeeze.

The district owes millions of dollars, and it was announced yesterday that its valuation has decreased by $2,994,186, reducing this summer's real estate taxes.

Those seeking to vote on the bond issue say they want to see a more detailed spending plan than has been made public so far. Bond foes say taxes already are high. Persons favoring the bond issue say that, with further revenue losses, it will be hard to balance the budget, begin debt reduction and maintain present courses and programs.

Wilson new Pontoon president

Glenn R. Wilson, a Pontoon Beach Village Board trustee for the past five years, was named as acting president of the village at Tuesday night's board meeting.

The action came as the resignation of former President Paul Bennett became official. Bennett announced his resignation July 10. The Bennetts are moving in with his parents in Mitchell, to help them.

BENNETT HAS been involved in village politics for 12 years, first as a trustee and then as a village board president. He was currently in his second term as board president.

Board Member Donald C. Rea told Bennett that he has been happy to know him for the past 11 years. "You are one of the most sincere and honest persons I've ever associated with," he told Bennett. "I believe the village is going to miss you."

Bennett declined to make a comment about his leaving, except that he is going to miss serving the village.

WILSON SAID after the meeting, that he also is "sorry to see Paul (Bennett) leaving," but that he is "proud" that the board has chosen him as a temporary successor. "I have no immediate plans for any changes in the village," he said. "Kind of like the way things are being run now."

Wilson will remain acting president of the board until the next general election in April. He did not say whether he plans to seek the president's office at that time.

His resignation as a board trustee became automatic when he accepted the acting president's position. He said that nominations are being sought to fill his position on the board.

Wilson, 50, attended Granite City High School and has been employed at Consolidated Aluminum Corp. (CONALCO) for 30 years. He is a member of Local 4804, United Steelworkers of America.

HE AND HIS wife, Robbie, reside at 15 Victoria Drive in Lakeview Estates. They have five children.

Wilson has been a member of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department the past 12 years. During this time, he has served as trustee for the department for three years and chairman of the committee for two years.

Willing Workers to meet Aug. 25

The Willing Workers of America will hold their monthly meeting Saturday, Aug. 25, at the Granite City YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., at 10 a.m. President Steve Ortiz will report on the bake sale which was held during the downtown sidewalk sale Aug. 10 and 11.

The Willing Workers are planning on being in the upcoming Labor Day parade in Granite City and is encouraging all members and other laid-off workers to walk with the group.

Ann Meyer of Deerfield, Ill., director of the National Federation of Parents, described her organization's network of parent groups that form a grassroots educational and informational attack on substance abuse.

Michael Winchester of Council Bluffs, Iowa, director of the National Federation of Youth, outlined work of high school students going into junior high and elementary school classrooms to present "down to earth" discussions of the direct effect of alcohol abuse on their brothers and sisters and the family as a unit.

Other reports were made by representatives of the American Medical Society, American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers and Aldolph Coors Co. on the broad range of prevention programs that Ryan's National Task Force is trying to unite in a "total program of prevention efforts."

Ryan leading nationwide drug abuse prevention

Young people and families were the focus of Illinois Lieutenant Governor George H. Ryan's National Task Force on Substance Abuse Prevention when its report was presented to the 23rd National Conference of Lieutenant Governors at Providence, R.I., in mid August.

Ryan led a presentation of national and state organizations that described community-based efforts in prevention activities.

Michael Winchester of Council Bluffs, Iowa, director of the National Federation of Youth, outlined work of high school students going into junior high and elementary school classrooms to present "down to earth" discussions of the direct effect of alcohol abuse on their brothers and sisters and the family as a unit.

Other reports were made by representatives of the American Medical Society, American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers and Aldolph Coors Co. on the broad range of prevention programs that Ryan's National Task Force is trying to unite in a "total program of prevention efforts."

His staff has completed a 50-state survey of all prevention programs now in place, describing the scope and direction of those programs. A directory will be published this fall and made available to lieutenant governors and organizations.

Ryan reported that in fiscal 1984 nearly $1.4 billion in federal, state and private funds has been allocated for drug and alcohol abuse services nationally, with $156 million of that going directly into prevention programs.

Lt. Gov. Thomas R. Docking described a comprehensive drunk driving campaign waged by the Kansas Association of Broadcasters, while Pat McCaskey of the Chicago Bears football club outlined the STOP Substance Abuse prevention program organized by Ryan and the Bears in cooperation with all of Chicago's professional sports games.

"Lieutenant governors can serve as a vital link in the prevention chain," said Ryan. "They can bring visibility and credibility to prevention activities, as well as serving as an independent government link between parents, community volunteers and professionals."

Ryan urged the national conference to continue the work of the task force and expand its leadership efforts in securing increased financial and programmatic emphasis on prevention programs throughout the U.S.

Call results in capture of alleged armed robber

The July 30 armed robbery of the Mister Donut Shop, 3134 Nameoki Road, four residential burglaries and an attempted break-in were cleared this week with the arrest of a Newton, Ill. man.

A call from an alert neighbor that someone was near a window at the rear of a home in the 2600 block of East 27th Street ended in a chase and the capture of Brian Paul Schafer, 19, of Rural Route One, Newton.

Schafer was charged with armed robbery in an informational document, issued Monday by the Madison County state's attorney's office, with taking approximately $95 from an employee of Mister Donut by threatening imminent use of force while armed with a dangerous weapon, a knife.
Subsequent information alleged residential burglary charges against Schafer in connection with break-ins at the home of Grace Hecht, 2538 Winters Drive, Aug. 11; Dorothy Kowalk, 2943 W. 25th, Aug. 3; Neil Montgomery, 2418 Anchorage Homes, July 24; Florence Roe, 2416 Winters Drive, Aug. 11; and attempted burglary at the home of Lily Graf, 2921 E. 29th St., Aug. 12.

After receiving a call from the neighbor, an officer saw Schafer standing in the carport near a side door at the home of Steve Ropac, 2656 E. 27th St., where entry was not gained.

Schafer, who ran from the scene and was caught, is believed to have been staying with friends in the area of the burglaries. No loot was recovered from any of the break-ins, a police spokesman advised.

MAN REFUSES OFFICER'S REQUEST TO CALL POLICE

An off-duty policeman alleged seeing two men breaking a bottle in the street during the weekend and identified himself as an officer, only to have the pair walk away from him.

Several people sitting on the sidewalk in front of a nearby dwelling were asked by the officer to call the police department for assistance. One man yelled an obscenity at the officer, who then went to another residence, where the occupant summoned aid.

Mark R. Baker, 23, of 2635 Madison Ave., and Lawrence A. Jacobson, 17, of Effingham, Ill., the two allegedly involved in the initial bottle breaking incident, were both charged with disorderly conduct. They were released upon each posting a $52 cash bond.

The man who refused to summon aid for the officer had fled the area before other help arrived.

DISORDERLY CHARGE

Linda F. Lemaster, 34, of 1639 Maple St., who allegedly was breaking furniture in a bedroom at the residence and then cursed officers who responded to a disturbance call there, was arrested during the weekend and charged with disorderly conduct. She allegedly declined to give her name and other information at the station, reports said.

Conservation still important

It is with joy that Quad-Cityans have watched gasoline prices stabilize and even drop a little, but that joy may be short lived if demand again begins to exceed supply.

We have little sympathy for the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, better known as OPEC, which has sustained some shrink in the United States demand for their oil and their multi-billion dollar profits shrink with the demand. The greedy OPEC nations kept calling for sustained higher prices, but the more realistic leaders set their prices at more attractive levels, although still outrageous.

All oil that was created worldwide and the Soviet Union, which is not a member of OPEC, has now announced it is cutting its export price by $1.50 a barrel. Don't expect prices at the pump to decline, however, as demand is beginning to grow.

Many Americans are getting tired of their small cars and are gradually trading them in for larger and larger cars. Vacations which had been put off during the times of high gasoline prices were expected to be taken this year, but a recent report that the New Orleans World's Fair report that they have been disappointed in the number of tourists this summer.

The lesson is that the tiger is still out there waiting to bite. If Americans stop conserving energy, the oil shortage — and higher oil prices — could return.

If we continue to insulate our homes better, drive smaller cars shorter distances, search for economies in industry and continue to realize that petroleum is a finite resource which will not last forever, then we may be able to hold the tiger and OPEC at bay until suitable replacements for oil can be found.

Nuclear power, once thought to be an answer for cheaper home heating and cooling, has proven the opposite. We suspect we will be in for a rude awakening when power bills arrive after the Clinton nuclear power plant comes on line.

Perhaps fuels from Illinois could be among the answers for energy in our homes, automobiles and industries. That could make life better for all Illinoisans.

So we have not reached the point where "energy conservation" can be considered dead words.

Says mayor shifted stand on tax voting

To the Editor:
In reading the front page of your recent newspaper (Aug. 9), I see where our "new" mayor has suddenly decided that he's been "right" in his vote on a tax increase should be enforced.

In strong words he states that we should have a government of the people and by the people.

In this the same mayor that rammed down the people's throats in Granite City the sales tax increases, the telephone tax increase, the bus tax increase (he's on that board also) and all the other little taxes.

If this is the same mayor, the people of Granite are waiting on him to discredit all these taxes and allow us to vote on each and everyone of them, and give us that basic right that the mayor says we so rightfully should have.

Alderman threatens to sue Madison

By DONNA KIMBRO

of the Press-Record
The city of Madison may be involved in a lawsuit because of two city attorneys allegedly encroaching on the property of the Alderman Charles Rockett, 908 Madison St., according to a letter read in open session at the Madison City Council Tuesday night.

D. Vasiloff, attorney for Alderman Rockett.

The letter contends that utility poles owned by Illinois Power Co. also are located on the Rockett property and a letter has been sent to IP informing them of the problem.

The letter read in part: "It is requested that this letter be referred to the appropriate authorities of the city with the idea in mind of working out a solution to the existing problems. If, however, I have not heard from a representative of the city within 21 days from the date of this letter, I will have no alternative except to file a suit in order to enforce the rights of Mr. Rockett."

Mayor Mike Sasyk directed the document be referred to the Street and Alley Committee for study. Three proposed ordinances, one for the sale of a 400 megahertz cable system; another for setting wages and salaries of city employees and the third for sale of surplus properties owned by the city, were read by Alderman William Gushfield and approved during the business session.

Governor to sign bill to exempt pickups, RVs from inspections

Governor James Thompson has pledged to sign legislation "on clock tonight" exempting recreational vehicles and light pickup trucks from semi-annual state safety inspections, effective immediately.

The legislation, House Bill 2430, is to be signed just before the Willie Nelson Concert tonight at the Illinois State Fair, Thompson has promised, according to State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), who called from his Springfield office Wednesday afternoon.

AS SOON AS the legislation is signed, it will become effective, Wolf said. That means that, if the bill is signed, trucks and recreational vehicles with license plates expiring

Aug. 31 need not present proof of inspection when renewing their license plates.

Vehicles which would be exempted from inspections would be pickup trucks with gross weight of 4,000 pounds or less when fully loaded and all recreational vehicles. About 29,000 vehicles are immediately affected, Wolf said.

Mehelic bill challenged at Nameoki town meeting

for the Press-Record
Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic, who recently was convicted of an official misconduct charge and still faces five more counts on charges of directing employees to perform personal work for him on township time, was a major topic of discussion at Monday night's town board meeting.

Lee Adams, treasurer, reported that Mehelic submitted a bill to the board in the amount of $79 from Jack Smith Ford for work on his personal truck. Adams, angered by Mehelic's presumption of the board's obligation to pay the bill, stated, "If Frank doesn't come in and pick up this bill by noon tomorrow, I will take it to the state's attorney myself."

In other business, a tax anticipation warrant in the amount of $10,000 for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund was tabled for a resolution allowing the supervisor and clerk to execute the warrant.

Helen Hawkins, board member, was against the resolution. "I don't agree with borrowing money. Take it out of your raises instead," she said. Harry Briggs, supervisor, explained that only three township employees have received raises in the past year and that the borrowing "is a matter of necessity."

A letter from Madison County Community Development concerning the Housing Block Grant Program for 1983 through 1987 was also read and approved, along with a resolution giving the supervisor authority to sign a continuance of the program.

Mrs. Hawkins, again voting against the resolution, asked why projects already in progress had not been completed. She stated she had directed this question to Madison County Community Development and was denied a hearing. "Our board should be more informed of what is going on," she argued.

Complaints pertaining to old transformers stored behind the township building were heard from township employees. Oil from these transformers, a suspected cancer-causing agent, covers the area where the transformers are stored.

The employees want the transformers removed and the oil spill cleaned up. Briggs stated he had made and continues to make requests to the EPA to inspect the transformers and storage area. He said he will be more explicit in his future requests.

Curfew enforced at Lee Park

Venue Park Board President Arnold Johnson has warned that the Venice Police Department will start enforcing the closing time at Lee Park this weekend.

The park closes at 10 p.m. nightly. Anyone caught in the park after that time will be prosecuted, pledged Johnson. "There will be no exceptions and no warnings issued outside of this one."

Johnson said the reason the board decided to enforce the closing time is due to several burglaries, acts of vandalism and complaints from surrounding residents. He said items taken from the park this year were valued at more than $1,000. He said he does not have a figure concerning the amount of damage vandals have caused.

Births recorded at St. Elizabeth Medical Center include:

The original "Best Friend of Charleston" became the first steam locomotive to pull a train of cars in regular service starting on Christmas Day, 1830, in Charleston, S.C. It then was operated by the South Carolina Canal and Railroad Co.

The replica is a likeness as true as patience, skill and care could make it," according to a spokesman for the Norfolk and Southern Corp., which owns the new Best Friend of Charleston.

THE REPLICA was built in Southern's shops late in 1928 to celebrate the South Carolina Canal and Railroad Company's 100th anniversary. It was based on the century-old plans, except for modern safety devices and a slight difference in the track gauge.

Those riding the train will see the harbor area, including the modern bulk-loading facilities for oil, fertilizer, grain and other products, including steel coils.

Visitors also may tour N & S Railroad's exhibit car, which will be at the port. The history of railroading is the theme of the many exhibits.

IN ADDITION, a 1922 Mack truck and 1924 Chevrolet truck will be on display, contrasting with modern bulk product carriers.

Visitors will be invited to tour the nearby Locks No. 27, the largest inland locks in the United States. The locks, one being 1,200 feet long and the other 600 feet long, will be in operation locking towboats and barges through the Chain of Rocks Canal. Visitors can stand within a few feet of giant towboats and barges as they lock through.

All of the port operators will have exhibits of products and services on display and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will have displays of the new Allot Locks Dam under construction and of the proposed new Tri-City harbor, planned for construction north of the current port.

NO RESERVATIONS are required and there will be no charge for attending the open house.

Quad Cities may reach the port from downtown Granite City by crossing the 18th Street overpass and following Rock Road across Route 3 and into the port area. It also may be reached from Route 1 by turning west on Rock Road at the Apex Oil Co. storage tanks.

County acts

approve property tax collection. Involved in the appointment of a standing property tax steering committee. Ad hoc committee members proposed the resolution as a way to later avoid the tax delays the county now is experiencing.

The Madison County Board appointed R.J. Papa of Wood River, Rick Hamilton of Nanticoke Township and William Aery of Alton to the tax steering committee. The remainder of the committee is to be made up of

Board of Review Chairman Harris, Board of Review members (if they wish to attend), the county clerk, county treasurer, supervisor of assessments, a state's attorney's representative, the director of data processing, the superintendent of schools, a township assessors' representative and the director of administration.

THE FINAL measure, called a staggered quadrennial assessment process, is a request to the Madison County state legislators to allow the county to adopt a rotating assessment program. The resolution provides that the county would be divided into four assessment districts, one of which is assessed each year on a rotating basis, rather than reassessing all county property every four years.

The resolution states that the process currently is used by Cook, Lake and St. Clair counties and is supported by township assessors.

Outstanding Young Man honor bestowed

Dennis Harold Jones, son of Robert Gene and Louise Jones of 7766 Carolyn Blvd., Mitchell, has been selected for the Outstanding Young Men of America program for 1984.

Jones, age 28, was nominated for his work as a therapist at the mental health clinic at a university in Martin, Tenn.

Doug Blankenship, chairman of the board of advisors of the Outstanding Young Men in America program, said in notifying the parents, "Your son, in receiving this distinctive honor, joins an elite group of young men from the entire United States who have demonstrated their excellence in professional endeavors and civic activities. These men work diligently to make their cities, as well as their country, a better place in which to live and deserve recognition for their outstanding achievements."

Jones will be in Granite City this weekend to attend his 10th class reunion. He graduated from Granite City High School in 1974.

YMCA closing residence hall planning for the future

In keeping with its plan to improve the Y's image in the community, the Tri-City Area YMCA will permanently close its residence hall Friday. The entire building then will be closed from Aug. 26 through Sept. 3 for cleaning and general maintenance before reopening for the fall schedule Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The decision to close the residence hall was made by the YMCA's board of directors' earlier this summer, partially to end the image that the YMCA was housing transients and partially to avoid the expenses of refurbishing and furnishing the apartments on the upper floors of the building.

IN RECENT years, the "Y" has not housed transients and those staying there have signed up for monthly stays only. However, a survey taken by the YMCA administration showed that some parents still feel uncomfortable sending their children to the YMCA because of the residents.

The "Y" leadership suffered a double blow this month as Executive Director David Penrite resigned to accept a similar job in Colorado and Program Director Chris Caranza submitted his resignation to return to college. Assistant Program Director Patty Swearingin has filled in and part-time leadership is being provided by Paul Sodko, president of the YMCA Board.

A special meeting of the board of directors has been called for noon Monday. It discusses the interim leadership and the search for a new executive director.

Patty Swearingin echoed the desires of the board in a statement issued to YMCA members yesterday which said, "We hope that by closing the residence hall, our focus can be toward pleasing our members and providing more programs and services for the community. If you have any questions, please contact me."

THIS closing of the residence hall, the YMCA building at 2001 Edison Ave. will no longer be open 24 hours a day. Beginning Sept. 4, new hours will be 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. The YMCA facilities can be rented after 10 p.m. by private groups. Reservations for rental should be made at least a week in advance.

The fall schedule and long-term improvements started by Penrite will continue unchanged. Among the major projects for which funding is being sought in a capital campaign is a steam line linking the YMCA building to the Granite City Steel of building a block away. GC Steel has offered the YMCA free steam to heat its building for at least five years, if the YMCA can fund the line. The savings in energy costs could assist in remodeling the building and providing new programs.

Remodeling of the spacious old lobby is continuing. The old wood has been stripped and refinished and new wallpaper is being hung to provide a clean new look.

IT IS HOPED that fall and winter will bring an upswing in use of the racquetball courts in the building. The courts now are used for racquetball and for "volleyball," which is volleyball played in a racquetball court, using the walls and ceilings as part of the playing area.

Efforts continue to pre-sell memberships in a Nautilus Center, which will be constructed after a sufficient number of memberships are pre-sold. This is being done to keep the YMCA from going further into debt to build the Nautilus center.

Plans have been drawn for a "first-class" center in the basement of the building amidst a modern and comfortable decor. Several finance plans are available for those who wish to join the Nautilus program and details are available by calling the YMCA at 876-7200.

SODKO is inviting the public to visit the YMCA after it reopens Sept. 4 to see the improvements made and to discuss the new programs and plans for keeping the YMCA a viable and permanent part of downtown Granite City.

County Board calls for vote on gas act

The Madison County Board Wednesday authorized an advisory referendum on the Natural Gas Consumer Relief Act to be submitted to Madison County voters at the general election Nov. 6.

The question that will be put before a non-binding vote reads, "Shall the U.S. Congress enact the Natural Gas Consumer Relief Act which rolls back home heating bills and limits future gas price increases?"

Board member Harold Byers of Highland submitted the resolution to the board, contending that the proposed act would save consumers 14 percent on their natural gas bills.

In other action, the board granted cable television rights to South-Western Cable TV Ltd. to install and operate a cable television service to county residents.

The board also authorized civil engineer Jimmy Stepp to represent the City to act as the engineer for the Brandon Heights sewer extension project in the county. The approved resolution states that the authorization would not require the expenditure of any public funds, but that Stuart would perform the services at the expense of other funds.

A contract also was awarded to Super Print, 2001 State Street, to print the 1984-85 Madison County School Directory. Superintendent officials offered the lowest of two bids with an estimate of $3,199. Emons Printing Company of Alton submitted a bid of $3,855 for the job.

Lotto prize set at $8 million

With an $8 million single-winner grand prize guaranteed in Saturday's lotto, sales started this week. There were no grand prize winners in the most recent game.

The Illinois State Lottery has "rolled over" the cash in the grand prize pool and now guarantees a grand prize of a 20-year annuity worth $8 million to a single winner this Saturday.

Multiple winners would share the actual cash in the grand prize pool. The last lotto in which there was no grand prize winner was June 16. If a single winner matches all six numbers, he or she will receive the largest grand prize in the history of the Illinois lottery's lotto game.

The largest prize ever paid out by the lottery was $6 million. Since its inception in February 1963, the lotto has created 77 millionaires.

"Lines tend to be long at lotto agents when a grand prize of this size is offered," said Michael J. Jones, lottery superintendent. "We are urging lotto players to buy their tickets early."

There were 279 people who matched five of the six winning numbers, and they will each receive second prizes of $2,151.

In addition, 15,361 matched four of the six winning numbers, and they will receive their prizes of $58.5 each, Jones said.

On Aug. 11, the winning numbers were 05, 18, 19, 32, 33 and 40.

Shot fired at police car by fleeing driver

In an early morning incident this week, a shot allegedly was fired from a vehicle being pursued by an Illinois State Police car.

The officer fired one round at the vehicle, resulting in the driver slumping over the brakes. Two people got out and ran east behind the boxcars toward the levee road, reports said.

A man and woman, later identified as Teresa Lynn Pike, 27, of 3208 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Larry Dean Lindsey, 22, of 2243 Delmar Ave., remained standing in front of the car and a security agent in the area assisted in placing the couple under arrest.

Other officers arrived at the scene and the Illinois State Police K-9 unit City to act as the engineer for the Brandon Heights sewer extension project in the county. The approved resolution states that the authorization would not require the expenditure of any public funds, but that Stuart would perform the services at the expense of other funds.

A contract also was awarded to Super Print, 2001 State Street, to print the 1984-85 Madison County School Directory. Superintendent officials offered the lowest of two bids with an estimate of $3,199. Emons Printing Company of Alton submitted a bid of $3,855 for the job.

Police later learned that Miss Pike and Lindsey had been given a ride in the car from a Granite City restaurant and neither was the driver. Both were charged with unlawful possession of alcohol and released on notice to appear for a hearing.

About 40 minutes after the chase started, officers went to the vicinity of Nevada and Denver avenues, where Jeffrey D. Gean, 18, of 1202 Arlington Drive, was taken into custody.

Gean was alleged to be one of the two men who fled from the vehicle, but was not the driver. He was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis. He also was booked for improper use of a registration when it was determined that his license plates were on the vehicle which was not registered to him.

Gean pled guilty to the charges in an appearance in the Granite City court Monday afternoon. He was fined $100 plus costs, given until October to pay and was released.

Four employees of the port authority reported hearing what sounded like shots fired, although it was noted that no weapon was found in the auto.

Authorities were about to begin dragging operations when the Clinton County Sheriff Gerald H. Dall found Mr. Prince's body floating in the lake early Tuesday. A van belonging to Mr. Prince was seen on the west side of the beach early Saturday evening and, after having the vehicle towed, officials identified the man and contacted the victim's parents in Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Prince, said they were not alarmed when their son did not return home Monday, as it was not unusual for him to leave for several days at a time.

It is thought, by the condition of the body, that the drowning occurred as early as Saturday, according to Clinton County Coroner Lou Looper.

Looper added there will be an autopsy, but foul play is not suspected. Mr. Prince was wearing swimming trunks and was known to carry an inner tube in his van, he said. Searchers found an inner tube along the shore near where the body was spotted, the coroner explained.

Matthew 5:7 "... I will come and heal him."

These are the words of Jesus in response to a Centurion soldier whose servant was sick with palsy.

There are three things that we should note in this Bible story. First of all, there was a need. Secondly, the Centurion came to Jesus. First, and lastly, Jesus said, "I will come."

You can have a need and God is concerned if the need is real. If it is a great concern to you, if that need must be met, know that God cares. Will you bring that need to God? Will you pray to the Father? Will you be open and honest before Him? Will you make the first move? His ear is always open.

Then know this: Jesus will come! He will meet your need. He has the answer for your situation. He cares. Have faith in God. When you pray, believe also.

Jesus will come to you. Today.

Granite Cityans among first to field Khoury League team

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

Granite City's, and for that matter, the Quad Cities', baseball history and traditions go way back to around the turn of the century. Particularly, standout teams of the older fellows were on such teams as the Fleischman's and the Sacred Hearts.

Granite City's first, and only, high school team to win the Illinois State Interscholastic State Championship took place in the spring of 1948.

And, there is no doubt that there were many, many teams made up of much younger players who played their games on vacant lots all over the town.

The first organized youth baseball teams, however, in the Quad Cities, were inaugurated in 1951 under the overall sponsorship of St. Louisian George Khoury and locally by a devoted follower of Khoury, dentist Leo Coleman, now retired down in Sun City, Arizona.

Khoury, a print shop owner in St. Louis, was a great fan of baseball and, around the end of World War II, had the idea of organizing leagues of boys into various age groups from nine to 17.

The age groups were: 9-10-11, 12-13, 14-15 and 16-17.

One of the first men approached by Coleman to form a team locally was U. S. Postman, now retired, Vernal (Dutch) Deutschmann. He, in turn, contacted a grocery man in his neighborhood, C. E. Eads, to sponsor the team.

In that first year, 1951, there were 18 teams in three age brackets. Other managers then were: Grylls Price, Roy Logan, Richard Dawdy, Eileen Maxwell (Dal's mother), and Chris Von Nida, to name a few. Assistant coaches to Deutschmann were, early on, Larry Schoeber, Frank Carroll, Ray Hiltner and Bill Bunte.

"That first year, I called a meeting at Webster School and explained what we hoped to do. Forty-five boys signed up and that was, of course, too many for me to handle. So, I held trials and then picked what I saw as the best 15 players each team could sign," Deutschmann said.

One of the biggest problems then was lack of baseball diamonds, and other sponsors.

"Some of our first sponsors were local merchants such as Eads, civic organizations and fraternal lodges, such as the Moose, Elks, D.A.V. and F.W., and service clubs like the Rotary," Deutschmann said.

"Everyone seemed to want to help, and we immediately built diamonds on the city's lots, 23 and 24, at Iowa and Madison. In addition, we pressed into service for the program, the diamonds at Sacred Heart school, the public schools and at Wilson Park," he said.

The Khoury League concept, Dutch explained, was intended to spread clear through the nation, but never beyond here in the Midwest, principally Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

Eads, now retired, is a nationally recognized grower of roses along with his wife. Eads now recalls fondly his sponsorship of the baseball team which carried his name for six years.

"It was fun because it not only involved the boys but their parents and relatives as well as their neighbors," Eads explained.

"After the games, the players and their parents wouldn't just break up and head for home. No, it was customary for us to serve hot dogs and drinks, and things like that. It made for a closely knit group."

Explained Dutch, "Eads bought a great many hot dogs, watermelons and ice cream cones for our players.

We all had a wonderful time in addition to playing baseball," he said pausing. "Not too many people locally realize it or know it, but Eads is a nationally known judge of rose shows."

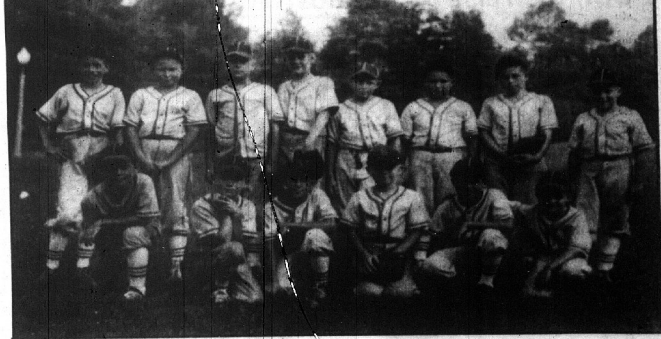

Deutschmann is almost painfully eager to point out, "I was just one of many men — and women, for that matter — who volunteered their time to coach and manage the young players in the Khoury Leagues. The boys were the ones we wanted to help and, I think, we did a fairly good job of it."

The high percentage of outstanding baseball players who have gone on to careers in college and in the pro ranks surely attest to his good judgment.

At first, according to Deutschmann, Coleman had 18 teams in different age brackets: bantam (9-10-11), midlets (12-13), juniors (14-15) and intermediate (16-17). By 1958, the number of teams had grown to 85. Then, in 1960, Coleman approached the Granite City Park District and its executive director, the now retired Harold Brown, for help. With the district's help, the program took off and still is active and doing well.

"Many men volunteered to help us," says Deutschmann. "Our biggest need, of course, were for umpires. Helping us there at first, and they should always be remembered for their contributions, were Gerald Rosenberg, Andy Gasparovic, Joe Summers and many, many members of both the police and fire departments of Granite City."

The most famous graduate of the Khoury League program locally, of course, is Dal Maxwell, who will be honored at the Cardinals and Atlanta Braves game Friday night at Busch Stadium. Tomorrow at noon, a special luncheon honoring Maxwell will be given at Granite City's Charlie's Restaurant. Tickets are

$20 and may still be purchased by calling 876-2000, or at the Park District office.

Deutschmann has many fond memories of the Khoury League teams he managed. Not too amazing, though, was that he must readily named his standout pitchers on the early nines. "Boys like Bill Henke, Fuzzy Nash, Jack Bunte, Bob Price and Don Schnefke, were truly scientific," he says now.

"In fact, a member of the second year's (1952) C. E. Eads team, Jack Bunte, as far as can be checked out, pitched the only perfect game ever recorded by a Khoury League hurler. It was against a Wood River team and in that town. Bunte retired 21 consecutive batters in a seven-inning contest.

Eads had only one minor regret about the program and he didn't think it was too serious. "In some of our out-of-town games, some of the parents in those towns threatened to get out of bounds. But, the boys, in 99 times out of 100, were almost unfailingly good sports," says Eads, who still welcome guests who wish to see his beautiful roses at 2621 State Street.

A personal high note for Deutschmann was his being chosen to serve as third base coach in the 1955 Khoury League All-Star Game held at the old Sportsman's Park on North Grand. He couldn't recall exactly which team, North or South, or what the final score was, but he did recall, with obvious pride, that one of his pitchers, the hard-throwing Jack Bunte was picked by all the coaches in the St. Louis area to hurl for one of the teams.

Another prize memory was that one of the teams went for two years without losing a regularly scheduled game.

And, in a personal observation and citing his own two boys, Ron and Larry as proof of his belief, "I know that the teaching the fellows get on the teams helped them become better men. My son Ron is now in Los Angeles as an electronic engineer with Lockheed and Larry is a Baptist minister in San Juan Capistrano, California."

In Pitching, Hitting Duel

Spanky's bats beat O'Connor

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — There'll always be an argument as to which talent in baseball is the most important, hitting or pitching.

Tuesday night, here at Hoppe Park, hitting proved to be the winning factor of the three, as Mike Roy, infielder for the 7-Up/Spanky's, blasted out two herculean home runs to spark his team past the East Alton Stags, 9-8, in what was a bitterly fought "rubber" game between the two clubs.

Trailing 8-6 going into the bottom half of the ninth inning, Spanky's was being stood on their collective ears by one of the area's best pitching prospects in many a year, Alton High (graduated in June and headed for Western Illinois U.) star, Tony O'Connor.

The 17-year-old O'Connor really had the Spanky batters baffled through the first four frames and was coasting behind a 5-0 lead provided by another Alton native, Dave Hopkins, who had walloped a 2-0 pitch well over the scoreboard in left field with the bases loaded.

Through the three first innings, O'Connor had allowed the Spanky's only two scratch hits.

But, in the fourth a walk and a stolen base and a single by Joe Gasaway, had gotten Spanky's on the board, 5-1. In the fifth, young O'Connor appeared to weaken somewhat but fanned the leadoff Spanky batter, Singles by Billy Buntin and J. V. Victorian followed by the second out on a fly out to center by Granite City native, Jack Scarborough brought up Mike Roy, a Waterloo native and star on the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers baseball team.

O'Connor blazed the first pitch by Roy, and gave him a leaser for a ball, and then got the count in his favor. However, on the fifth pitch, it was up right where he shouldn't and the ball left the field in deep center, estimated by those who know the park as a 450-foot-plus blow, which tied the game.

Playing manager Billy Stolte of Spanky's threw four hurlers at the Stags, but they regained the lead, 7-5, with a pair in the eighth and O'Connor looked like he had it made. Leading off the Spanky's final inning was the veteran Scarborough, who leads the team in walks. He walked.

Bill Stolte, faking a deep swing, bunted down the first base line and O'Connor miscued the ball and there were two on and Mike Roy with his menacing bat coming up.

Young O'Connor, who was voted All-State hurler this spring by the coaches of the state, didn't flinch a bit and brought the ball straight down the middle.

It was a mistake, Roy swung and the ball disappeared over the left field scoreboard and the Spanky's had eyed the series with the Stags, 1-1, and ran their record to 41-19-1.

This weekend they'll return to Wichita, Kans. for action in the National Baseball Congress tournament. They are now 1-1 in the double-elimination affair.

World's Largest Nighttime Ride

Moonlight Ramble slated for Aug. 26

The Moonlight Ramble, the world's largest nighttime bicycling event, will attract 10,000-12,000 bicycle riders for a twilight tour of St. Louis, Sunday, Aug. 26, 2 a.m.

Sponsored by the Ozark Area Council, American Youth Hostels and 7-Eleven Stores, the Moonlight Ramble will assemble at Kiener Plaza, Broadway and Market Streets. The Moonlight Ramble is open to the general public and includes people of all ages, sizes and abilities in a leisurely ride through St. Louis of 9 or 22 miles.

Tickets for the Moonlight Ramble are on sale now through local bike shops, area Famous-Barr stores, and the Ozark Area Council: American Youth Hostels located at 1908 South 12th Street. Pre-registration is $1.50. Late registration tickets at $2 will be available at Kiener Plaza on Saturday, Aug. 25, 10:30 p.m. to Sunday, Aug. 26, 2 a.m.

As a special celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the American Youth Hostels, the Moonlight Ramble will feature a registration prize drawing, an American Youth Hostels 50th Anniversary booth, and a presentation and kick-off of the Ramble by the St. Louis Clowns of America. The registration prize drawing will be held on Sept. 16 and will include prizes donated by A-1 Bicycle Shop, the Alpine Shop, Bombay Bicycle Club, Crestwood Cyclery, CR Frank Popcorn and Supply, Maplewood Bicycle, and South Side Cyclery.

In addition, Race Across America (RAAM), a marathon transcontinental cycling event which features the top cyclists in the country, will be racing through St. Louis the night of the Moonlight Ramble.

Opening Day

FIRST DAY PAIN. That three-letter phrase is almost synonymous with the first day of fall practice at Granite City High School. Above, members of the Warrior soccer team do leg lifts, stomach exercises, during Wednesday's practice. According to Illinois High School Association guidelines, Wednesday was the first day of practice for all sports except football which began Monday. Photographs of the sometimes dreaded first day of practice appear on page 11.

First Practice Day:

Heat, Exercise, Sore Muscles

For most fall high school athletic teams practices began Wednesday, the earliest day permissible by the Illinois High School Association. The first day of practice is generally one of refamiliarization. Wednesday's sessions were no exception. At right, Warrior quarterback David Gushleff, after taking the football from center Kevin Lilley, fakes a handoff to halfback Doug Limbaugh before handing off to fullback Chris Lilley. The gridders went through a light workout Wednesday morning, a workout without pads. At lower right, Brian Brown dribbles around Roderick Kullum during a first-day soccer practice. The two, both seniors on Madison High School's soccer team, vie for control of a soccer ball during the initial practice while Warrior girls' tennis player Angela Pinkston returns a ground stroke, below center. Below, Tami Jones, a member of the Warrior volleyball team, practices an open-handed serve during her team's first practice.

Gridders still welcome

Granite City High School varsity football coach Ron Yates reminds those athletes interested in playing football this fall but have not yet attended practice that they may still do so.

"Some kids may just now be returning from a summer vacation with their parents. We just want them to know that it's not too late to come out for football," Yates said.

The Warriors began practice on Monday. Yates said athletes are welcome to tryout for all three Warrior teams — freshmen, sophomore and varsity. Freshmen and sophomore practices are twice daily until school begins, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Varsity morning practices begin at 7:30 a.m. and then again at 3 p.m.

Select team soccer tryouts

Boys 12 and 13 years old who are soccer enthusiasts may wish to contact two Granite City men to register for a Select Team tryout which will be held in the coming weeks.

According to Phil Achenbach, any boy who was born in 1972 is eligible to tryout for the team. Achenbach requests that youths interested in trying out for the Select Team call him at 931-3045 or Tim Thompson at 432-3197.

Also beginning Monday, Aug. 27, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Soccer For Fun will hold a clinic. This clinic will consist of stretching and flexibility exercises from instructor Marsha Faulkner and soccer instruction for Jane Kehoe and Ruben Mendoza.

This clinic is for the new player or the players who want to tune-up their skills.

For any further information persons should call 797-0619.

Concession cleanup slated

Members of Granite City High School's Booster Club invites all its members and interested persons to assist with preparing the concession stand for the coming fall sports season this Saturday, Aug. 18.

According to GCIS Booster Club member Candy Carden, the booster club will begin preparing the Fehling Road concession stand (located on Varsity Field) for the coming soccer season.

The cleanup spruce-up session begins at 9 a.m.

MCGSA signup set for Aug. 25

The Madison County Girls' Soccer Association will register girls on Saturday, Aug. 25, who wish to compete in its fall soccer league.

The registration, which is slated for a two-hour session from 10 a.m. to noon, is open to all girls ages five through 13 born in 1971 through 1979. Registration will be at the St. John's Soccer Field located at 2901 Nameoki Road.

Payment of fees is not necessary when registering.

Now in its 16th year, MCGSA began in 1968 with four teams in one age division. Since then, the association has grown to 22 teams with some of its former participants finding their way to some of the top college teams in the country. To date, eight former MCGSA athletes are members of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's soccer team.

Most recently some of its members claimed two gold medals in the first ever Prairie State Games. In all, it's estimated that 75 percent of the members of those two state championship teams were former members of the MCGSA.

During the recent meeting, the organization elected its new officers for the 1984-85 season. Barry Stuart is the new president; vice president is George Sykes; Gary Spray is secretary; Ed Lenzi is treasurer, and Sandy Cooper is the publicity director.

Persons seeking further information about the Aug. 25 registration or about MCGSA may call Mrs. Cooper at 876-5720.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When an employee is injured on the job, he is entitled to have his medical expenses paid and to receive temporary disability payments during the time he is off work. In addition, he is entitled to receive a permanent disability award if he has permanent loss of use of a particular part of the body. The Workmen's Compensation Act provides for the needs of injured workers very well if the employer acts in good faith. Frequently, however, this office receives calls from employees hurt on the job who are not receiving the benefits to which they are entitled.

In a recent case, a man was employed as a truck driver delivering cases of liquor. In July of 1979, he dropped a case on his left hand, injuring his thumb. He was first treated at the company clinic, and later he went to his own orthopedic surgeon. The clinic doctor had released the employee to go back to work, but the orthopedic surgeon put a cast on his hand covering his palm and thumb and extending up his arm.

Subsequently, the worker contacted his employer and the workmen's compensation insurance carrier requesting temporary disability benefits. Both denied his request for temporary total disability, because they claimed there was a discrepancy between the two doctors with regard to the method of treatment. The employer in this case delayed paying any compensation to the employee for 48 days.

The Workmen's Compensation Act provides for penalties if the employer has been guilty of delay or unfairness in the payment of benefits to an injured employee. In these situations, the Industrial Commission may award compensation additional to that otherwise payable equal to 50 percent of the amount payable. The Commission may also assess all or part of the injured worker's attorney's fees and costs against the employer. In the case previously referred to, the employee filed a claim for compensation and the penalties described above. He claimed the employer acted in bad faith in denying him his benefits. The employer, on the other hand, claimed it acted reasonably because of the difference in the method of treatment prescribed by the two doctors.

The Industrial Commission agreed with the worker here. Both employer and employee agreed that the injury arose out of and in the course of the worker's employment. The Commission found that the employer, without good cause, refused payment of benefits, and it assessed substantial penalties in this case.

FOR PET'S SAKE

by James R. Hill, D.V.M.

IN CASE OF POISONING

A fallacy is that an animal has the good instinct NOT to eat what is harmful to itself. Not true! First of all, a number of vital instincts have been bred out of animals in the course of man's domestication of them. Second, an animal's instincts are no match for modern technology and chemistry. Every household contains numerous poisonous substances which an animal would never have encountered in the wild — everything from drain cleaner to rodent bait.

Though we all take precautions to keep these substances out of the reach of our pets, accidents DO happen. Pets will get at things they are not supposed to and don't have the "good sense" not to sample them.

If you think your pet has been poisoned, quick action is imperative. The signs of poisoning are retching, pain, trembling and sometimes convulsions. If you know what he has eaten and there is an antidote in the label, follow those directions. If not, take your animal and the suspected poison to your veterinarian immediately.

High school student studies Florida acid rain at SIUE

By PETER L. SIMPSON

Tahnee Ahlbers, of Collinsville High School, has traveled a long way from her home in Glen Carbon, Ill., on a chemistry research project at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE), Ill.

For the past six weeks, she has been studying the effects of acid rain on the coquina blocks of the Castillo de San Marcos in St. Augustine, Fla.

ACID RAIN is usually considered a problem of the northern industrial states, but Miss Ahlbers has found that it has migrated south to the sunny peninsula. According to David Rands, professor of chemistry at SIUE, acid rain is attacking the old castle primarily because of the southward move of power plants.

Rands is directing Miss Ahlbers in the fifth year of a special program for promising high school students who show a definite interest in science. Project SEED is funded by the American Chemical Society and the Amheuser-Busch Companies.

"It's been a productive program," Rands said. "Just a week ago, I had a visit from an East St. Louis high school student who went on to get a degree in environmental engineering from MIT."

PLAINLY EXCITED by the work she has been doing, Miss Ahlbers said that her work built upon what she was studying in high school. "But the technological equipment is much more advanced," she noted. "I especially enjoy programming the results of our lab analysis on the computer."

She works in the lab and gets directions for the computer from Rands, graduate assistant, Joni Rosenow, of Woodstock, Miss. Rosenow came to SIUE after getting her undergraduate degree at Miliken University. She expects to receive her master's in chemistry from SIUE next year.

Both students focused on oblong, rectangular pieces of coquina encased in plastic to control the atmospheric conditions for the analysis. Coquina is composed of seashells cemented together by calcium carbonate. It can be mined with ordinary carpenter's tools.

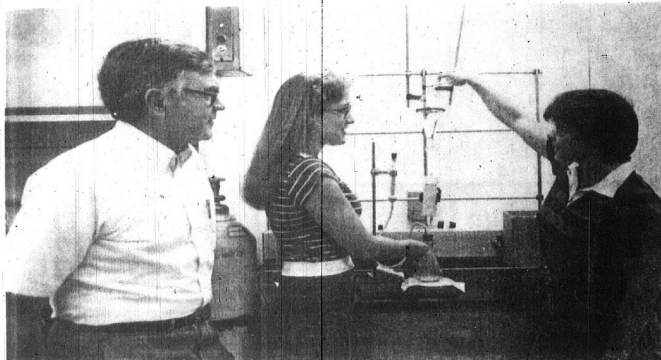

"IT HARDENS in the air," Rands explained. "Our samples are actually cut down to size by a stone cutter in East St. Louis."

Miss Ahlbers and Miss Rosenow run water and synthetic mixtures through the rock samples. The mixtures simulate the conditions of acid rain; records of the analysis and determinations of differences are printed out on the computer.

Students for Project SEED usually come to SIUE on the recommendation of their high school counselors. "It will certainly look good on my resume when I go to college," Miss Ahlbers commented, laughing.

Then more serious, she said that the fun she had while learning really appealed to her. It had made even more firm her commitment to pursue a career in science.

Course emphasizes Spanish skills

A September Option course in conversational Spanish, offered through the Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will provide grounding in that language's "survival skills," according to Paul Gaston.

The coordinator of September Option noted that the course is designed for business men and women, medical personnel, engineers, travelers and any others who wish to gain an elementary command of an important international language.

THE COURSE, which runs from Aug. 27 through Sept. 21, offers an intensive examination of the essentials of conversational Spanish. Basic grammatical constructions, as well as pronunciation, will be covered. It carries no academic credit.

It is part of the university's effort to offer learning opportunities during a period when the university traditionally has been closed, between the end of the summer quarter and the beginning of the fall term. Classes will meet two hours a day, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m.

The Language Laboratory and Lovejoy Library will be open and available to students in this course at appropriate times, Gaston said.

"AN IMPORTANT new initiative in the university's commitment to making full use of its resources in meeting area educational needs" are the words used by Vice President and Provost Barbara J. Peters in describing September Option.

"There will be an open registration for September Option classes during the week prior to the beginning of classes, Aug. 20-24 - however, students wishing to enroll in a particular course should initiate the process immediately," notes Christa O'Neil, director of the Office of Continuing Education, which handles registrations for all non-credit courses.

For further information on September Option, students may call 1-692-3772.

"I came to the center to do something for myself and I have."

SIUE costume designer finds her calling by accident

By CINDY RICHEY

The guest costume designer for the recent production of "My Fair Lady" at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE), went into her profession almost by accident.

When Caroline DeMoss, now with the St. Louis Repertory Theatre, applied to Greensboro College in Greensboro, N.C., she indicated she could sew. She received a full scholarship in Costume Shop.

TWO YEARS later, she wound up as a costume designer. Not bad for someone who had originally intended to be a high school drama teacher. Though she had been sewing since she was a small girl, Miss DeMoss never thought of using that skill in her career.

However, she soon realized there was "a lot more to it than just sewing."

For the past three years, she has been the costume shop manager at Webster University in St. Louis, supervising student crews, working with student designers and teaching construction classes. Besides her busy academic schedule, she is also quite active in the St. Louis Repertory Theatre.

Miss DeMoss agreed to come to SIUE this summer to work on "My Fair Lady." She wanted to design for a show that would be close to home so she would not be gone all summer. Also, the job at SIUE gave her more freedom and opportunity than she had previously found in her roles as teacher and adviser. She reasoned that she could design the costumes and work with the crew instead of simply teaching them.

OF THE WHOLE experience, Miss DeMoss says, "it's been very pleasant and enjoyable. A designer is only as good as her crew, and this crew has made me look really good."

Besides having a talented guest costume designer, SIUE's production of "My Fair Lady" was also blessed with Byron Grant as musical director, coaching the singers and controlling the production during the play.

Originally from Georgia, Grant lived in New York City for 16 years. From there he came to St. Louis, also to Webster University to teach musical theatre.

GRANT DID his undergraduate work at a college in Huntington, Ala., prior to receiving his master's degree from SIU at Carbondale. He decided on a career in theater simply because he "liked it."

"My Fair Lady" is one of his favorite shows, so he was pleased to have the opportunity to work on the play at SIUE. His musical accomplishments include acting professionally in "The Fantasticks" in New York City at the Sullivan Street Playhouse and a number of productions in the St. Louis Repertory Theatre.

These two natives of the South have clearly found a home in St. Louis, and the dramatic scene is prospering because of it.

Gardenaires Garden Club marks 30th anniversary

The 30th anniversary of the Gardenaires Garden Club was observed, last week, with a guest day luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Charles Kohl.

Special guests included Mrs. Darrel Chamberlain, of Mascoutah, who is the Director of District V, of the Garden Clubs of Illinois, and Mrs. Marcellus Knaulth of Belleville, the immediate past district director. Also attending were Mrs. B. C. O'Neill, president of the Cloverview Garden Club, and members of the Cloverview Club, which now is comprised of 14 clubs. Through the years the club has participated in many national, state and district projects, and won awards for their efforts.

The local club was instrumental in organizing the formal for mini garden centers, which was adopted by National Council. A mini garden center was established at the Granite City Public Library in 1970, and is still maintained by club members.

Other local projects have included contributing trees and shrubs to the Granite City Park District, local school grounds, and in 1970 were responsible for landscaping and planting the area surrounding the fire station on Rock Road. In the early 1980's members planted and maintained a flower bed at the Madison Nursing Home, and delivered flowers and plants each month to patients at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

resides in California, and Mrs. Kohl invited three of their neighbors to their homes to talk about organizing a garden club. Other interested residents were invited to become charter members. The name of the new club was suggested by Mrs. J. P. Cox, a charter member, who now lives in Sparta, Ill. The club became affiliated with the National Council of State Garden Clubs, through membership in District V, of the Garden Clubs of Illinois, in 1956. They were the fifth club to be admitted to District V, which now is comprised of 14 clubs. Through the years the club has participated in many national, state and district projects, and won awards for their efforts.

In her closing remarks Mrs. Kohl noted there were three charter members who have maintained continuous membership in the club, they are Mrs. C. E. Eads, Mrs. Abe Shannon, and herself Mrs. Shannon, who was not able to attend the meeting, serves as the club's Cheer Chairman. Mrs. Eads is secretary, and Mrs. Kohl is vice-president for this year.

After Mrs. Kohl's remarks, Mrs. Leo Schank presided at an informal social hour, during which time those present enjoyed looking at some of the club's history books, which were on display.

Each guest was presented with a pressed flower book mark, as a memento of the day, and Mrs. Shannon was given the basket of flowers from the main table. Attendance prizes were won by Mrs. Malottki and Mrs. Kristian. Mrs. Kerch reminded the members the September meeting date has been changed to Tuesday, Sept. 18th. This will be an all day workshop at the home of Mrs. Edna Leary in Edwardsville. Members are to bring a lunch and start work at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Kerch also stated a business meeting would be held that day.
